

THE FORAGING BEE

Land for Bees

Have land? Let's put bees on it.

FILL IN BY HAND OR SCAN THE QR TO APPLY ONLINE

The Foraging Bee is actively looking for good land in the Princeton area and North Delta: sunny, sheltered spots for teaching apiaries, workshops and pollinator habitat. Mark sets up and manages the hives — you do no bee work. As a Land Partner, the hosted hive's entire surplus harvest belongs to you.

FULL NAME

EMAIL

PHONE

PROPERTY ADDRESS / AREA

APPROXIMATE SIZE OF THE SUNNY SPOT

TELL US ABOUT THE LAND

- ☐ Open field or pasture
- ☐ Orchard or garden edge
- ☐ Forest edge / fence line
- ☐ Interested in hosting teaching days or workshops on my land

ACCESS, WATER, NEIGHBOURS, ANYTHING ELSE

Prefer online?

Scan the code or visit foragingbee.com/adopt-a-hive and use the land application form.

Access, water, neighbours, insurance and a simple written agreement are worked out together before a single hive arrives.

A poor season could yield no share from a hosted hive; any substitution is agreed with you before the season.

Connect • Explore • Sustain

